LIPPER LEADERS RATING (OVERALL)

Total Return	Consistent Return	Preservation	Lipper Leaders Key
⊖	⊖	②	Lowest Highest
			① ⑤

The Lipper Leaders Ratings System is a set of tools that guide investors and their advisors to select funds that suit individual investment styles and goals. It uses investors-centred criteria to deliver a simple, clear description of a fund's success in meeting certain goals, such as preserving capital or building wealth through consistent strong returns.

Lipper Leader ratings are derived from highly sophisticated formulas that analyse funds against clearly defined criteria. Each fund is ranked against its peers based on the metric used (such as Total Return or Expense), and then the top 20% of funds in that ranking receive the Lipper Leader designation. Lipper Leaders measures are not predictive of future performance, but they do provide context and perspective for making knowledgeable fund investment decisions.

FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

Emerging market (EM) equities, as measured by the MSCI Emerging Markets Index, recorded a positive return in December, but lagged the MSCI World Index.

Mexico and the Czech Republic, where the respective central banks hiked their policy rates by more than expected, were the best-performing index markets, with currency strength amplifying returns. South Korea and Taiwan, which benefitted from strong performance from IT names, posted strong gains and outperformed.

By contrast, Chile, where leftist Gabriel Boric was elected president, recorded a negative return and was the weakest index market. China also fell as daily new cases of Covid-19 picked up, resulting in the re-implementation of activity restrictions in a number of cities, including a full lockdown in Xian. Russia underperformed as tensions with the West intensified.
